Editorial

Volume 6, Issue 1 of Premier Critical Perspective contains nine essays from multi-disciplinary subjects: English Language, English Literature, Business Administration, Mathematics, Physics, and Economics. Each essay is academically well-focused and written chiefly by young academics. The Editorial Board of PCP encourages young university academics to develop a strong-research bent of mind and submit their research outcomes in the form of articles to PCP for publication.

PCP also ardently expects well-recognized senior scholars in various academic fields to publish their valuable articles in this journal so that it becomes an interactive platform between senior and junior scholars to disseminate knowledge with a team spirit.

In the postmodern world, this realization has been increasingly occupying space in the minds of scholars that the creation of knowledge and the pursuit of knowledge, and the arriving at factual as well as cognitive truths are all parts of a supernova agenda, which is to flourish knowledge and wisdom from here to eternity and to let knowledge grow from more to more to know the unknown—and all this, needless to say, is teamwork.

PCP believes in keeping all the doors of knowledge open and creating new ones.

The Editorial Board is privileged to express gratitude to Professor Dr. Anupam Sen, Vice-Chancellor, Premier University, and the Chief patron of PCP, for his endless support and warm encouragement. The Editor also takes the opportunity to thank the patrons and advisory board of PCP for their valuable suggestions during this issue's publication and printing.

Warm wishes.
